

Editorial Note

Greetings to all the readers and well-wishers of the Journal of Development Economics and Management Research Studies (JDMS). The vaccine drive done by the countries around the world in general and India, in particular, shows a positive situation in containing the menace of Covid-19 variants. The lockdown continues in India with reasonable relaxation and hence the economy is slowly picking up and upward movements in many of the macroeconomic parameters are observed. However, concerning international trade, high imports level is observed in oil, electronic goods, vegetable oil, chemicals, some metals, coal etc. This is not a favourable situation for our BOP which is already showing an unfavourable position with many countries. The countries across the globe are in the recovery phase from the pandemic strike. The recovery is uneven among developed, emerging and developing countries. The prospect is bleaker in emerging and developing countries due to macroeconomic situations. It requires appropriate policy measures to combat the inhibiting forces.
